

INFORMATION ABOUT PROJECT ELIGIBILITY

- Only projects that can be fully completed during the 2020/2021 fire year are eligible (e.g., all project activities must be completed before March 31st, 2021). All grant winners will be asked to provide social-media-ready project updates throughout the fire season.
- These grants are intended to support specific projects. If you're seeking funding for an on-going initiative, be sure to provide specific deliverables that you will create during the grant period.
- All work associated with your grant project must be your own (or used with permission and cited appropriately).
- No end-of-season crew videos will be funded.
- Projects may be multi-lingual, but must include English.
- Fifty percent of grant funds must go towards the purchase of tools, equipment, or software that support your storytelling efforts.
- All projects must be digital and the applicant must already have an established web presence that is accessible to the public at the time of application (e.g., either on social media, blogs, etc.).
- Grant winners will be required to commit to producing a set amount of content throughout the grant period, to which AWE and grant sponsors will have permission to share on social media (with credit, of course). Grant winners will be encouraged to use the #lifeonthefireline, #wildfireexperience, #thesmokeygeneration, #builtforthemission, and #waterax (or other) hashtags during the 2020 fire year.
- Grant winners must uphold a high ethical standard of storytelling.
- Individuals are only eligible to receive one grant award.
